What is GMIS ?

Government Management Information Sciences is an organization of agencies in State, County, & Local Government and Public Education.

It provides a forum for the exchange of ideas, information, and techniques to foster the effective application of technology in serving the business needs of government.

Golf Anyone?

For those addicted to the little white ball, there will be a symposium Golf Tournament on Saturday May 20. The details are still being worked out but information and costs will be posted on the GMIS-Utah website as soon as they are available.

Please review the website often and book early to avoid disappointment:

Why Participate ?

This Symposium is anticipated to attract some 150 leaders who represent the Business and Technology decision-makers of the State, Local, and Municipal Government, and Educational Institutions in Utah.

If this is your market, you need to be here !!

The Business track features speakers such as Stephen Fletcher (State CIO), Dr. Jerry Mechling (John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard), and Mayor Lewis K. Billings (Provo) to provide attendees with information and perspectives on cross-boundary collaboration initiatives for the future of Government and Education in Utah.

The Security track features technology sessions from Security Professionals centered on protecting the 2006 computing environment in today's online transaction world.
